MODERNIZE SCHOOL SYSTEM

Agnes Ray Declares Method Is in Need of Standardizing.

Agnes Ray, of 272 1/2 street, who has been appointed to the board of education, declared today that the school system of California is in need of a complete reorganization. She said that the present system is a hodgepodge of various methods, and that it is necessary to have a standard method of instruction. She said that she had been studying the problem for some time, and that she had found that the most effective method is the one that is based on the principles of psychology and sociology. She said that she had been studying the work of the various educational authorities, and that she had found that the most effective method is the one that is based on the principles of psychology and sociology. # MAGICIAN UPSETS HOTEL'S DINING-ROOM DECORUM

All was quiet in the grill room of the Hotel Oakland, save where, in a corner, a musically-inclined individual was consuming soup. In the center of the room Frank W. Bilger, potentate of the Mystic Shrine and prominent clubman, was entertaining a party. Suddenly one of the guests passed his hand over a cigarette he was smoking, and then gently flipped it with his finger. A flash and explosion resulted, and the diners gasped. Bilger then introduced his guest as "Mr. Rameses." The noted magician had been having a little fun with the dining room.

HOLDUP WAS MOST COURTEOUS GENT

Was "So Sorry" to Trouble Victim and Thanked for Loot Behind Gun.

Under Henderson of 722 Golden Gate avenue and Miss Jeanette Maxwell of 1632 1/2 Howard street, were sitting on a bench in Golden Gate Park last night when a gentleman passed. "I am sorry to trouble you," he said to Henderson, politely but emphatically, "but I must ask you to kindly hand over your money and your watch." Henderson demurred, but not for long. A wicked looking revolver with which the holdup man toyed playfully turned the trick. He yielded up $3 and the watch. "I wish you a very good evening," said the suave highwayman as, tipping his hat, he walked quietly off through a by-path. The park station was notified but the man in fine raiment and the aspect of a Raffles was nowhere to be found.

MANY NEAR DEATH IN TROLLEY CRASH

Five Injured When Street Car Jumps Track in San Francisco.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 1.—Nearly two score of men, women and children, passengers on an inbound Hayes-Ingle side car had a miraculous escape from death yesterday afternoon, when the car, going at full speed, jumped the track at the Twentieth avenue and Lincoln way junction, careened across the latter street, jumped the curb on the farther side, coming to a stop and crashed into an iron trolley pole in the park. That no one was killed or fatally injured is due to the fact that the car remained upright.

C. W. Foster, 440 Eddy street, end of nose cut off. Julius Berendsen, 756 Devisadero street, cut across face. Mrs. E. H. Flannery, cut and bruised arm and back. John Manning, 86 St. Mary's avenue, bruised. Walter Goodman, 1477 Ellis street, contusions of right eye.

Motorman Joseph Donadel, 1204 Grove street, whom many of the passengers were acquainted with, was in the operation of his car when it was arrested on a charge of battery and sent to the City Prison. Donadel was first taken to the Park Emergency hospital, where his injuries, consisting of bruises on the arm and back, were treated.

C. W. Foster, who was standing on the front platform with the motorman, had probably the most painful injury of any, the tip of his nose being severed by a piece of flying glass. Mrs. E. H. Flannery, the only woman passenger to be injured to such an extent that required medical attention, was bruised about the body and suffered a great deal from nervous shock.

Julius Berendsen, 756 Devisadero street, accompanied by his three children, Anita, Ewald and Julius, received a severe cut across the forehead that required a number of stitches. Walter Goodman, 1477 Ellis street, was treated at the Emergency hospital for a contusion of the right eye. Many of the passengers were bruised and cut by flying glass to a minor extent, but refused to go to the hospital, taking another car for their homes.

As is the cause of the accident between Motorman Donadel and his passengers. Donadel declares that his air brakes refused to work when he attempted to bring his car to a stop at the junction of the tracks at Twentieth avenue with the Ellis street line on Lincoln way. Several passengers, however, declared that they had been given a hair-raising ride from the time the car left its terminal in Ingleside until it jumped the track at Lincoln way.

E. H. Flannery, a railroad man, whose wife was injured, declared that he tested the motorman's brake immediately after the accident, and found it in good working condition, with a pressure of forty pounds of air. Motorman Donadel declares that his car was not going more than six miles an hour when it left the track.

PARROT'S GREEN FEATHERS SAVE BIRD FROM M'KEEGAN

"Bill" Horgan, former sailor, waterfront character, and dexterous manipulator of a wooden leg, unwittingly has been the cause of considerable perturbation to "Patrolman" "Bill" McKeegan. Horgan didn't do anything, but his pet parrot did. McKeegan is puzzling over the question "When is a bird not a bird?" The bird in question is one of the pets of the waterfront, but was unknown to McKeegan until last night. McKeegan, patrolling his beat, was attracted by loud and blood-curdling curses, emanating from the porch of Horgan's home. Here he saw nothing but a bird. It was green, and rather pretty, and seemed tame. McKeegan poked its club toward it. "Well, what the h—l do you want?" asked the parrot. "Excuse me, sir, I thought you were a bird," said McKeegan, and beat a hasty retreat. Horgan was instructed to keep his profane parrot inside in future, and McKeegan patrols his beat now without being assailed by the parrot's profanity. "It's a lucky thing for the bird that his feathers are green!" said the policeman.

TRADE UNIONS' CONGRESS MEETS

Delegates From Labor Organizations Open International Gathering.

Baine of Boston, Mass., and Louis Keaper of Cincinnati, O., who represent the American Federation of Labor. # THAW CANARD HAS 100,000 VICTIMS

Newspaper With Great Thriller Proves "Fake" Perpetrators Net $2000.

NEW YORK, Sept. 1.—Thousands of New Yorkers pouring in from the beach trains at Brooklyn bridge during the night were victims of a fake sensation when they went down in their pockets for a nickel to buy a "newspaper" across whose front page in black letters three inches high they read: "Harry Thaw Shot Trying to Escape." The papers sold like wildfire and those who bought received an even greater thrill for their money when they read below the report, that Thaw was "killed" and one or more men with him in his dash for life.

quantified, however, by the statement that the report was unconfirmed. On close inspection the fake became apparent, as the issue was "Volume 1, No. 1" of the "Sunday Telegram," printed in Philadelphia, where no regularly established paper of that name is known. The similarity which the name bore to a New York newspaper led to protests to the police and confiscation of about 400 copies which the newspapers then had unsold. It is estimated that 100,000 copies of the fake newspaper had been sold in cities between Philadelphia and New York and in this city with a profit of about 2000 to the perpetrators of the enterprise.

FIRES BULLET INTO BRAIN AFTER DEBAUCH

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 1.—After a night of merriment which lasted until 7 o'clock this morning, Frank Conlon, a teamster of 937 Webster street, fired a bullet into his brain and is in a serious condition at the Central Emergency Hospital. Conlon placed a pistol to his head just behind the right ear and pulled the trigger. He was not rendered unconscious and called for help, evidently regretting his act. When he was removed to the hospital he stated that he was despondent because he was out of employment and had spent all of his money. He has a slim chance of recovery.

FINGERPRINTS MAY BRING ABOUT BURGLAR'S CAPTURE

How to Get Rid of Eczema

If you bruise your hand, you will notice that a scab forms, and when it falls off, new skin has formed. Did you know that? No! Skin is the same as the rest of the body. It is made of blood, from the blood the materials of your stomach and intestines convert from food into what we call blood. And this blood circulates in the myriad of tiny blood vessels in the skin. Start from your stomach, where blood materials begin, and it won't be long before you are free of eczema. Use S. S. S. for a short time, and not only will eczema disappear, but the entire blood will be renewed. There is one ingredient in S. S. S. which serves the active purpose of purifying each cellular part of the body of its own essential nutriment. That is why it regenerates the blood supply, why it has such a tremendous influence in overcoming eczema, rash, pimples, and all skin afflictions.

JUSTICE MELVIN FINED FOR SPEED

Magistrate Holds Court in Middle of Road and Convicts Jurist.

SAN RAFAEL, Sept. 1.—Question: Will Associate Justice Henry A. Melvin of the state supreme court, raconteur and bon vivant, regale his friends in his postprandial repertory with the story of summary justice short of legal trials, as it was dealt out to him and one of his friends, Monday by Justice of the Peace H. J. Conradt of Novato?

Answer: Extremely unlikely.

Association Justice Melvin and his party were enjoying a cross country spin and the Marin county scenery near Novato, and, according to Speed Officer George A. Agnew and Justice Conradt's pocket, disregarding the limit fixed by the county ordinance.

Agnew, accosted in a grove by his party, snapped his stop watch into his pocket and started a stern chase.

Forging ahead of the big car with his motorcycle, the officer rounded up his quarry in the center of the town. The colloquy which followed was overheard by justice of the peace, who happened to be crossing the street at the time.

Pedestrian Who Doubled-Crossed the Continent Narrowly Escapes Arrest.

NEW YORK, Sept. 1.—Herbert Hoover, who double-crossed the continent in 223 days, narrowly escaped arrest today, when he arrived here at the completion of his long journey. His long hair and ragged clothes attracted the attention of a policeman, but after the officer had seen letters from chiefs of police of towns all the way across the country, which the pedestrian carried with him, he directed Hoover to police headquarters. The walker said that by the time he had won a wage of $1000 but that his principal purpose in making the journey on foot was to improve his health. In this he has succeeded. When he started he was threatened with consumption and weighed only 100 pounds. Now he weighs 140 pounds and is in the pink of condition.

Hoover's home is in Newark, N. J. He is 21 years old.

FINDS DEEP STREAM BY MEANS OF "WITCH STICK"

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Sept. 1.—Disappointed after a week of fruitless search to persuade the water department of Kansas City, Kan., to extend the water mains to his neighborhood, Harry Snedeker resorted to the "witch stick" and found a rushing stream of clear, cold water beneath his back yard.

A few days ago Snedeker cut a forked branch from a peach tree. At the spot toward which the fork turned as he held it in his hand while walking in the yard he ordered well diggers to begin operations. Today

STOCK EXCHANGE GAMBLE; CLARKE

Senator Declares That New York Cotton Exchange Same as Gambling Place.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 1.—Senator Clarke addressed the senate today on his amendment against trading in cotton, where no actual delivery was intended. Senator Clarke declared that the New York Cotton Exchange and its "parasite," the New Orleans lean exchange, were no more than gambling rings.

The New York exchange, he argued, controlled the price of cotton for the whole world.

Senator Clarke declared that gambling in agricultural products had been condemned by the platform adopted at the Baltimore convention, and that the demand in conformity with that declaration principle. He said the actual deliveries of cotton on the New York Cotton Exchange were only one-half of 1 per cent of the sales.

THE CONSTITUTION AS THE PALLADIUM OF THE LIQUOR TRAFFIC

The Federal Constitution has been invoked to serve many a shabby pretense, but it was never called to do more ignoble service than in the attempt of the brewers of other cities, who use Oakland as a dumping ground for their surplus product, to use it as a scarecrow to frighten the city council. Edmund Burke said patriotism was the last resort of a rogue.

means that requires regulation in the interest of good morals. An attorney has been employed to flaunt the constitution in the face of the council and urge it as an objection to certain provisions of the liquor ordinance which the brewers of other cities maintaining bottling agencies in this city regard as obnoxious.

"You must regulate licenses according to our wishes," says the attorney in effect, "or you will violate the constitution of the United States. In the sacred name of liberty and the national constitution, I warn you not to disturb our business or interfere with our profits."

Fudge! If the provision of the liquor ordinance to which the foreign brewers object were unconstitutional, as their attorney says, they would not hire a lawyer to go before the council and wave the constitution, my brothers, as a danger signal; they would let the council pass the ordinance and get the courts to knock it out.

Let them take their constitutional quibbles to the courts, if they think the quibbles really amount to anything, and not ask a municipal legislative body to exercise the functions of the United States Supreme Court. It is a humbug pretense to set up the national organic law in opposition to passing a local police regulation. The subterfuge is too transparent for serious consideration. The council should pay no attention to it. So palpable an effort to play upon the layman's lack of knowledge respecting constitutional law is in the nature of an insult. In this instance, it is a gross attempt to pervert constitutional principles to serve an interest that is arrayed against decency and morality.

There is nothing in the so-called constitutional point. Depend upon that, or it would never have been raised in the council. Moreover, it is not within the province of the council to adjudicate constitutional questions nor allow its actions to be controlled by empty threats of attorneys employed to serve a special interest, which dares not face the court of public opinion.

Here is an attempt to frighten the council into refusing to exercise the power of police control over the liquor traffic. The constitution is the bugaboo. The constitution is all right, but the use of it is all wrong. Nobody knows that better than the attorney for the gentlemen who assert that they have a constitutional right to bottle and sell beer in this city on their own terms. He is using the constitution as a rag to clean the face of a traffic that has offended against good order, good morals and the canons of decency. By its failure to keep within the law it has provoked the community into restricting it still more and placing it within the power of the police to more effectively control it.

"But you will violate the constitution," exclaims the attorney for the beer-makers of other cities.

Nonsense! The Federal Supreme Court has repeatedly frowned down such ridiculous contentions, and affirmed over and over again that the police power has an almost unlimited range of authority in regulating the domestic affairs of states and municipalities. A special interest sets up an exparte construction of the constitution that strikes directly at the root of the principle of local self-government and asks, nay demands, that the council shall follow it.

The council will do no such thing. It will do its duty and let the attorney for the brewers of Sacramento, Seattle and San Jose take their case to the courts. When they do that other ways will be found by the exercise of the police power to make them more tractable. We shall see then whether they sell beer here on their own terms or the terms which the people of this community prescribe.

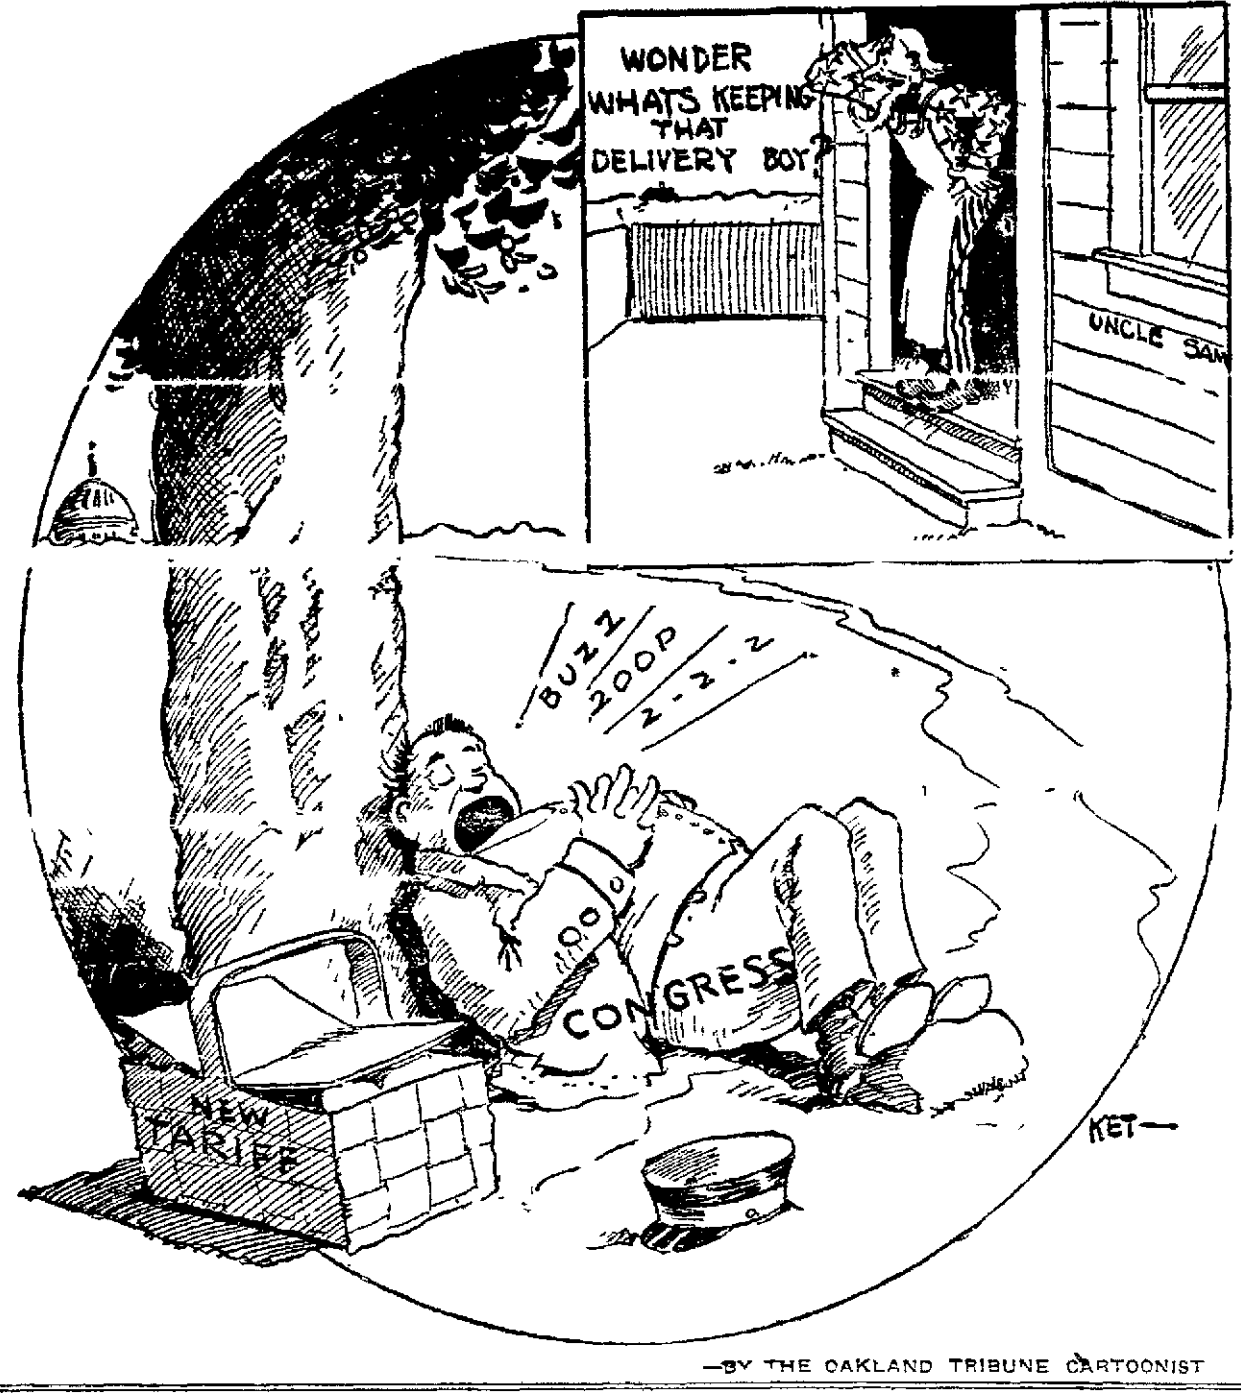

Revere the constitution, but when it is set up as a scarecrow treat it as a scarecrow. In this case its purport is misrepresented to serve a purpose which conflicts with the welfare of the community. It is a case of Satan quoting Scripture. License and liberty are different things entirely, and the effort to drag the council into treating them as one and the same should be rebuked and ignored.

Lobbying for beer-makers and liquor-sellers under pretense of practicing law naturally results in the prostitution of legal principles to serve the very purposes with which the law is at war.

The decision of President Wilson to let our Mexican neighbors stew in their own juice will be approved generally as wise; also his decision to preserve a strict neutrality recognizing neither side and giving no aid to either. Armed intervention is the sole alternative. To be effective intervention would have to be backed by military force, and would inevitably assume the complexion of a war of subjugation. The President of the United States has adopted the only safe and sane course, and his policy will be approved by the judgment of his countrymen. This country is not ready to take on another Philippine problem—not just yet.

"What I think of my five wives" is the title of a Sunday supplement article which Nat Goodwin has contributed to the news. Nat is making merchandise of the story of his experience with his five wives, and he again shows his contempt for the marital relations, and he again shows his contempt for the public opinion by making public things which a proper man would admonish him to keep to himself. But Nat is not a proper man; he is immoral, and is not averse to being made an object of public scorn.

Helping the People.

Secretary Lane announces as a public policy that "what this government wants to do is to help the people, call it paternalism, or anything else."

Then the Secretary, by way of antithesis, says: "We want to do away with the Indian as a public charge. Our policy heretofore has made him dependent."

The old American idea of our government was that the people should take care of the government, not that the government should take care of the people.

The new policy reverses this, as to all others than the Indians. These having been taken care of and helped by the government have thereby been made dependent, and now it is proposed to make them independent, but apply to the rest of us the policy, that made them dependent. It is safe to say that in the long run of a large experiment of this kind, the people left to shift for themselves, to live by exercise of their own initiative and industry, provided their rights of person and property are respected by the law, will outstrip the people who are helped and coddled by the government, and are thereby made dependent and therefore weak and incapable.

Governor Johnson made an excellent choice when he named John S. Chambers for State Controller in place of A. B. Nye, deceased. Like Mr. Nye, Mr. Chambers is an experienced and capable newspaper man. He is managing editor of the Sacramento Bee, with which he has been connected for eleven years, and bears an unblemished reputation. Mr. Chambers is president of the Board of Managers of the Napa Hospital for the Insane, in which position he has displayed a high sense of duty and responsibility. The State is fortunate that Governor Johnson has chosen so good a man for the place which Mr. Nye filled with such exceptional ability.

There may be a question about the wisdom of the Mann white slave law, but there is no question about its meaning. It is as plain as a pikestaff. The language of the act clearly shows that it was intended to apply precisely to such acts as Diggs and young Caminetti are charged with committing. We may differ as to the degree of culpability, but not as to the construction of the law. The framers of the act have left no room for doubt. It is quite true that the only hold the Federal law has on the defendants is the fact that they went from California to Nevada with the girls. The illicit intercourse they sustained with the girls would not have subjected them to criminal prosecution in the Federal courts if they had not gone from one State to another. They placed themselves in the toils of the law by going on that foolish trip to Reno. Nevertheless the law applies to just such expeditions. Possibly it was not so intended to apply, but conceding that, the wording of the act permits of no other construction. The statute is a harsh one beyond doubt, but there can be no argument as to its meaning.

Viscount Haldane, Lord Chancellor of England, is in favor of giving women the ballot, but remarks that the suffrage cause has been delayed in England for years perhaps by the folly and violence of the militant suffragettes. The leadership of Mrs. Pankhurst and her daughters has injured the cause they espoused with so much fury and so little reason. But to find a statesman and a jurist of the eminence of Lord Haldane advocating votes for women is significant of a change in the British attitude toward women. Lord Haldane is a Scotchman and a Liberal, but he is a stickler for British traditions. That he should favor woman suffrage is a proof that the suffrage cause is gaining ground among educated and thoughtful men. David Lord George and Winston Churchill are both believers in woman suffrage but the militant suffragettes have harnessed them with great fury because the Liberal ministry of which they are members, would not make suffrage a government measure. The suffrage movement cannot be successful so long as arson and ruin of property are resorted to in advancing it. The Pankhurst plan of campaign is worse than a failure because it has alienated sympathy and postponed the realization of the hopes of the suffragists.

STORIES OF PLACES

Public attention in Berlin is being attracted to the wretched past received in Germany, by provincial theatrical people. So critical is the position of the rank and file of these players that a proposal is even made to fix a minimum wage for them. In a newspaper devoted to the interests of the profession advertisements give some idea of their condition. In one town in Alsace a player of all branches is required at the princely salary of 90 marks ($21.60) monthly. "Nahle" and "Comic" heroines are asked for from 60 to 80 marks a month. Players of the lowest order offer their services at the "lowest possible figure." Youthful actresses who advertise their personal charms, their voices, their handsome and varied wardrobes are there by the dozen and are willing to take from 70 to 80 marks, and one man, variously accomplished offers his services as a scene painter, chorus singer and player of diverse roles also as program seller, at 60 marks ($14.40) a month.

Bermuda enjoys the distinction of being the only British colony mentioned in Shakespeare. And his way of spelling it—the "still-revered Bermoothes"—is more correct than the one now in vogue.

Today Bermuda is plural, not singular. It is really an archipelago or cluster of 200 small islands—very small, some of them all told they do not aggregate more than fifteen square miles. Bermuda is less than 600 miles from the coast of the United States. The exceptional mildness and salubrity of its climate have made it during recent years a favorite winter resort with well-to-do Americans. According to statistics these visitors number some 30,000 a year. Mark Twain was a regular winter resident of Bermuda. Portions of the British coast are slipping bodily into the sea and disappearing in the waves, yet other portions rise mysteriously out of the waters. The net gain of land is greater than the loss. Within thirty-five years England and Wales lost 4,692 acres and gained 30,752 while Scotland and Ireland made an equally handsome bargain. Parliament will not be able to put an end to the negotiations discovered by the royal commissioners. Beaches that rise sixty feet above high water mark and afterward sink fifty feet under the waves evidently obey some law that laughs at seawalls.

"THOU SHALT" IN TREE PLANTING
The forest service has devised a decalogue for the use of farmers in the plains regions. These ten commandments are to be displayed as part of the exhibit which the forest service is preparing for an exposition to be held in October at Tulsa, Ok. In connection with the eighth international dry farming congress. The commandments for owners of windbreaks are as follows:

1. Place the windbreak at right angles to the direction of injurious prevailing winds.
2. Give from one-eighth to one-fifth of the farm to timber. Its protective value more than pays for the ground it occupies. Cultivate the timber yield.
3. Plant only species suited to windbreak use, to the region and to the locality.
4. Do not underplant with slower growing species, which are usually longer lived and more valuable.
5. Supplement a deciduous windbreak with evergreens to afford protection in winter.
6. Separate trees by the spacing proper to the species used. The trees should be close enough to produce a dense windbreak and to yield good poles, but should not be so crowded as to produce spindling growth.
7. Make the windbreak thick from the bottom up, especially on the side toward the wind. This may be done by using planting outside rows of low growing trees, by encouraging natural reproduction and by thinning.
8. Cultivate the plantation thorough while it is young.
9. Do not allow excessive grazing where reproduction is desired.
10. Do not thin your wood lot too heavily or take out the best trees for minor uses. Remember that a timber tract should be improved by use and that each clearing should leave it in better condition than before.—Hobbs Farm.

THE EGYPT OF TODAY

Egypt is today a producer of raw material. Its entire needs of manufactured goods and prepared material are met from abroad. Raw cotton represents four-fifths of the remainder. The public debt of Egypt amounts $460,534,014 and is almost wholly of foreign holding. Foreign sources, too, have furnished the capital for its commercial and industrial enterprises, as well as the funds borrowed by companies and individuals. The charges on the foreign invested and borrowed capital in Egypt are estimated to exceed those on its public debt. The extensive foreign financial interest in Egypt was the cause directly responsible for the conditions that precipitated the political crisis in 1912. As the result of this crisis a foreign army still occupies Egypt, and the occupying power has ever since supervised, and, in an advisory capacity, administered its affairs of state. The number of foreigners and their investments in Egypt, as shown by the census of 1907, was 147,220. Greeks predominate with a population of 62,973; Italians, 34,926; British, 20,652; French, 14,591; and Austrians 7704. All of the foreign population is centered in the several large cities. Mixed tribunals made up of a judiciary appointed by the Egyptian government from the 12 larger Christian nations have civil jurisdiction in all cases in which the litigants are of different nationalities. The law governing the administration of these tribunals is a special code, based on the French civil code. Consuls and diplomatic representatives through consular courts, exercise criminal jurisdiction over their nationals and have jurisdiction in civil cases between persons of the same nationality. The trade balance of Egypt, based on the actual interchange of commodities, is always in its favor. This balance, however, is offset by the charges on the foreign invested capital.—Consular Report.

THE MEXICAN BANDIT

Everybody in Mexico goes about armed. Even the passenger trains on most of the railroads are guarded by detachments of soldiers, who ride in special cars, while on steam station platforms are armed guards. A man who carries a revolver for an emergency. Foreigners have to carry a revolver, and make themselves unfavorably conspicuous in the eyes of the natives. It was a novel experience, however, to see railroad surveyors, when occupied with their peaceful work, armed to the teeth with rifles and revolvers. As a matter of fact, arms were rarely required in Mexico as a means of defense. As everywhere else, it is well to remember, however, to keep cool and forget that you are armed in case of a quarrel. In this connection the principal perplexity of the road had an experience at which he displayed some nerve. He had to make a reconnaissance of a mountain range called the Sierra Gorda, said to be infested with outlaws. He was warned to let the district alone but duty prevailed and he went. When reaching a rancho near the summit at sundown, he and his attendant were met by four men whose law-breaking propensities required no further introduction. They took hold of the party's horses, told the engineer and his attendant to dismount, and made no effort to conceal the fact that they were there for business. The engineer complied smilingly, and, going up to the leader, mystified that individual by asking him to step aside. "I am told that it is unsafe to travel in these mountains," he whispered, "will you not therefore oblige me by taking care of my property, and allow us to remain under your roof until morning. With that he handed over his watch, money and other things, and the watchman, who was probably for the first time in his life treated to the poverty of being trusted, not only let the engineer have the best in the house, but handed him back his property in the morning and furnished him with two outthroats to serve as an escort during the rest of his journey.—Engineering Magazine.

WASHINGTON'S UNIQUE LIFE

Washington is a unique life, though how long it will remain so no one can tell. Fresh with the beauty of youth, situated at the present juncture between the extremes of heat and cold possessing a climate which throughout the greater portion of the year is that of the only proper life—the life in the open air—Washington is sparkling and skies as blue as Italy's, it presents to those who wish them political, scientific and social life, and every one who is a Washingtonian life, which, second to none in the New World, may possibly, in no long time, be equal to that of any in the whole world. In Washington one may, according to taste, rear himself the most advanced theories of science in every field, the political news of every country and enjoy a society of simple, cultured and refined—of, if one prefers it, as pretentious as any and as brilliant as in any capital of the globe. It has a social life if not as brilliant, at least as agreeable, as that of any other national capital. Commerce, we are assured by those who have been in it, covers as wide if not as extensive a field as in any other metropolis, and we are promised soon an increase of manufacture, so that those who love it need not despair of having in time substituted for our present pure and uncontaminated air as filthy an atmosphere as that of the greatest manufacturing city in the country. As to the social life of Washington, we are assured that it is in abundance. In fact, Washington naturally demands consideration from every standpoint. Historically, politically and socially it is a field for the investigator, the student, the thinker. And he will be hard to please who cannot find in its various and diverse activities as many varied objects of pursuit as he will find in the varied scenes amid its elegant avenues lined with trees of every land and arid—Thomas Nelson Page in Scribner's Magazine.

EDITORIAL PARAGRAPHS

Conditions must be desperate in the East when thieves break into an ice house to steal a ton of congealed water. A St. Louis hotel which has been closed since the typing set by opening a bank account in the name of a pretty waitress. It sounds reasonable, but what will this thing end? The universal peace congress asks the United States to arbitrate the canal tolls issue. The trouble with these peace plans is that this Government is supposed to make all the concessions. A wealthy Japanese of Los Angeles has decided to test the California anti-allen law. This method may be slower, but it will not be so costly as more spectacular methods. Massachusetts have celebrated the State Good Roads Day in the practical manner of constructing 200 miles of real highway. How much better than the method over in Kansas, where they only do the talk. A new era begins in Wharcom county with the breaking of ground for the Government's experimental farm at Custer. Uncle Sam knows what he is about when he starts work with a trio of stump-pullers. At $8.05 per capita—the amount needed to meet Seattle's municipal payroll—the head of an average family of five would pay more than $40. When one thinks of it in this way, it becomes something of a burden. The wise man follows the lines of least resistance by telling all women how well they look and all mothers their babies are beautiful.

PROPERTY OF AMERICANS IN DANGER

What Is to Become of Plants
if Owners Leave Mexico?

Unusual and Serious Situation
May Develop in the South.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 1.—Chairman Flood of the House foreign affairs committee today letters from a large sugar company in Vera Cruz, asking to whom its property should be entrusted if President Wilson's advice to all Americans to get out of Mexico was to be followed. The letter stated that the company's plant cost $1,500,000, that it had a growing crop valued at $500,000, and that if those in charge left Mexico valuable property would be at the mercy of the bandits.

Senator Bacon, chairman of the foreign affairs committee, conferred more than an hour today with Secretary Bryan, after which he declared the Mexican situation seemed to be marking time.

"So far as I know," said the senator, "the Mexican situation is absolutely at a standstill. No word of importance has been received from Mexico City and nothing has come today from Lind, who remains in Vera Cruz. I don't know what he plans to do."

NO GUARANTEE OF LOANS.
Senator Bacon said the suggestion by Lind to have the United States administration here would use its good offices with American bankers to encourage loans to Mexico was in no sense an offer by this government to guarantee any loans.

"Mr. Lind meant simply that if the American people were for peace were accepted," said Senator Bacon, "that this government would regard conditions in Mexico as hoped that business could be safely carried on and to that extent would be glad to encourage bankers who might make loans to the provisional government."

TO PROTECT AMERICANS.
Americans who did not wish to heed the advice of President Wilson to leave the country would be protected in every possible way by this country, Bacon said.

Secretary Bryan arranged to leave late today for Chesapeake, Maryland, to deliver a lecture tonight. He expects to speak in York, Pennsylvania, tomorrow night and in Eastern Maryland, Wednesday. He expects to return to Washington between engagements and may go to Miami later this week to speak in the campaign in the Third Congressional District.

FELIX DIAZ WAITING.
LONDON, Sept. 1.—General Felix Diaz says cables from Mexico, expected at once will determine whether or not he will go to Japan to perform his mission or return to Mexico.

PATRIOTIC WAVE IN MEXICO.
MEXICO CITY, Sept. 1.—A wave of patriotism appears to be sweeping over Mexico from many states and from all classes. It is announced, assurances of allegiance and offers of service are being received daily by President Huerta and his minister of war.

There are being made for as large a display as possible of military strength on September 16, Independence day, when it is proposed to hold a big parade in which 20,000 are expected to march.

AWAIT HALE'S ARRIVAL.
VERA CRUZ, Sept. 1.—Dr. William Bayard Hale, who now is on his way to Washington and should arrive there tomorrow or Wednesday, is expected to place before President Wilson and Secretary of State Bryan important facts in the Mexican situation which have had a bearing in the negotiations between the two countries. The President's personal representative, John Lind, is still here awaiting instructions from Washington, but so far has not received any indications from the Huerta government that it would be willing to make more concessions to the American demands.

TELLS OF REBEL RAID.
SAN DIEGO, Cal., Sept. 1.—Still suffering from the effects of a bayonet wound received at the hands of an intoxicated rebel while lying sick in bed at his home in Durango, T. L. Findley of El Paso, Texas, arrived yesterday from Northern Mexico on the steamship Benito Juarez. Findley gave a graphic description of the raid on the city of Durango by a band of 6000 rebels.

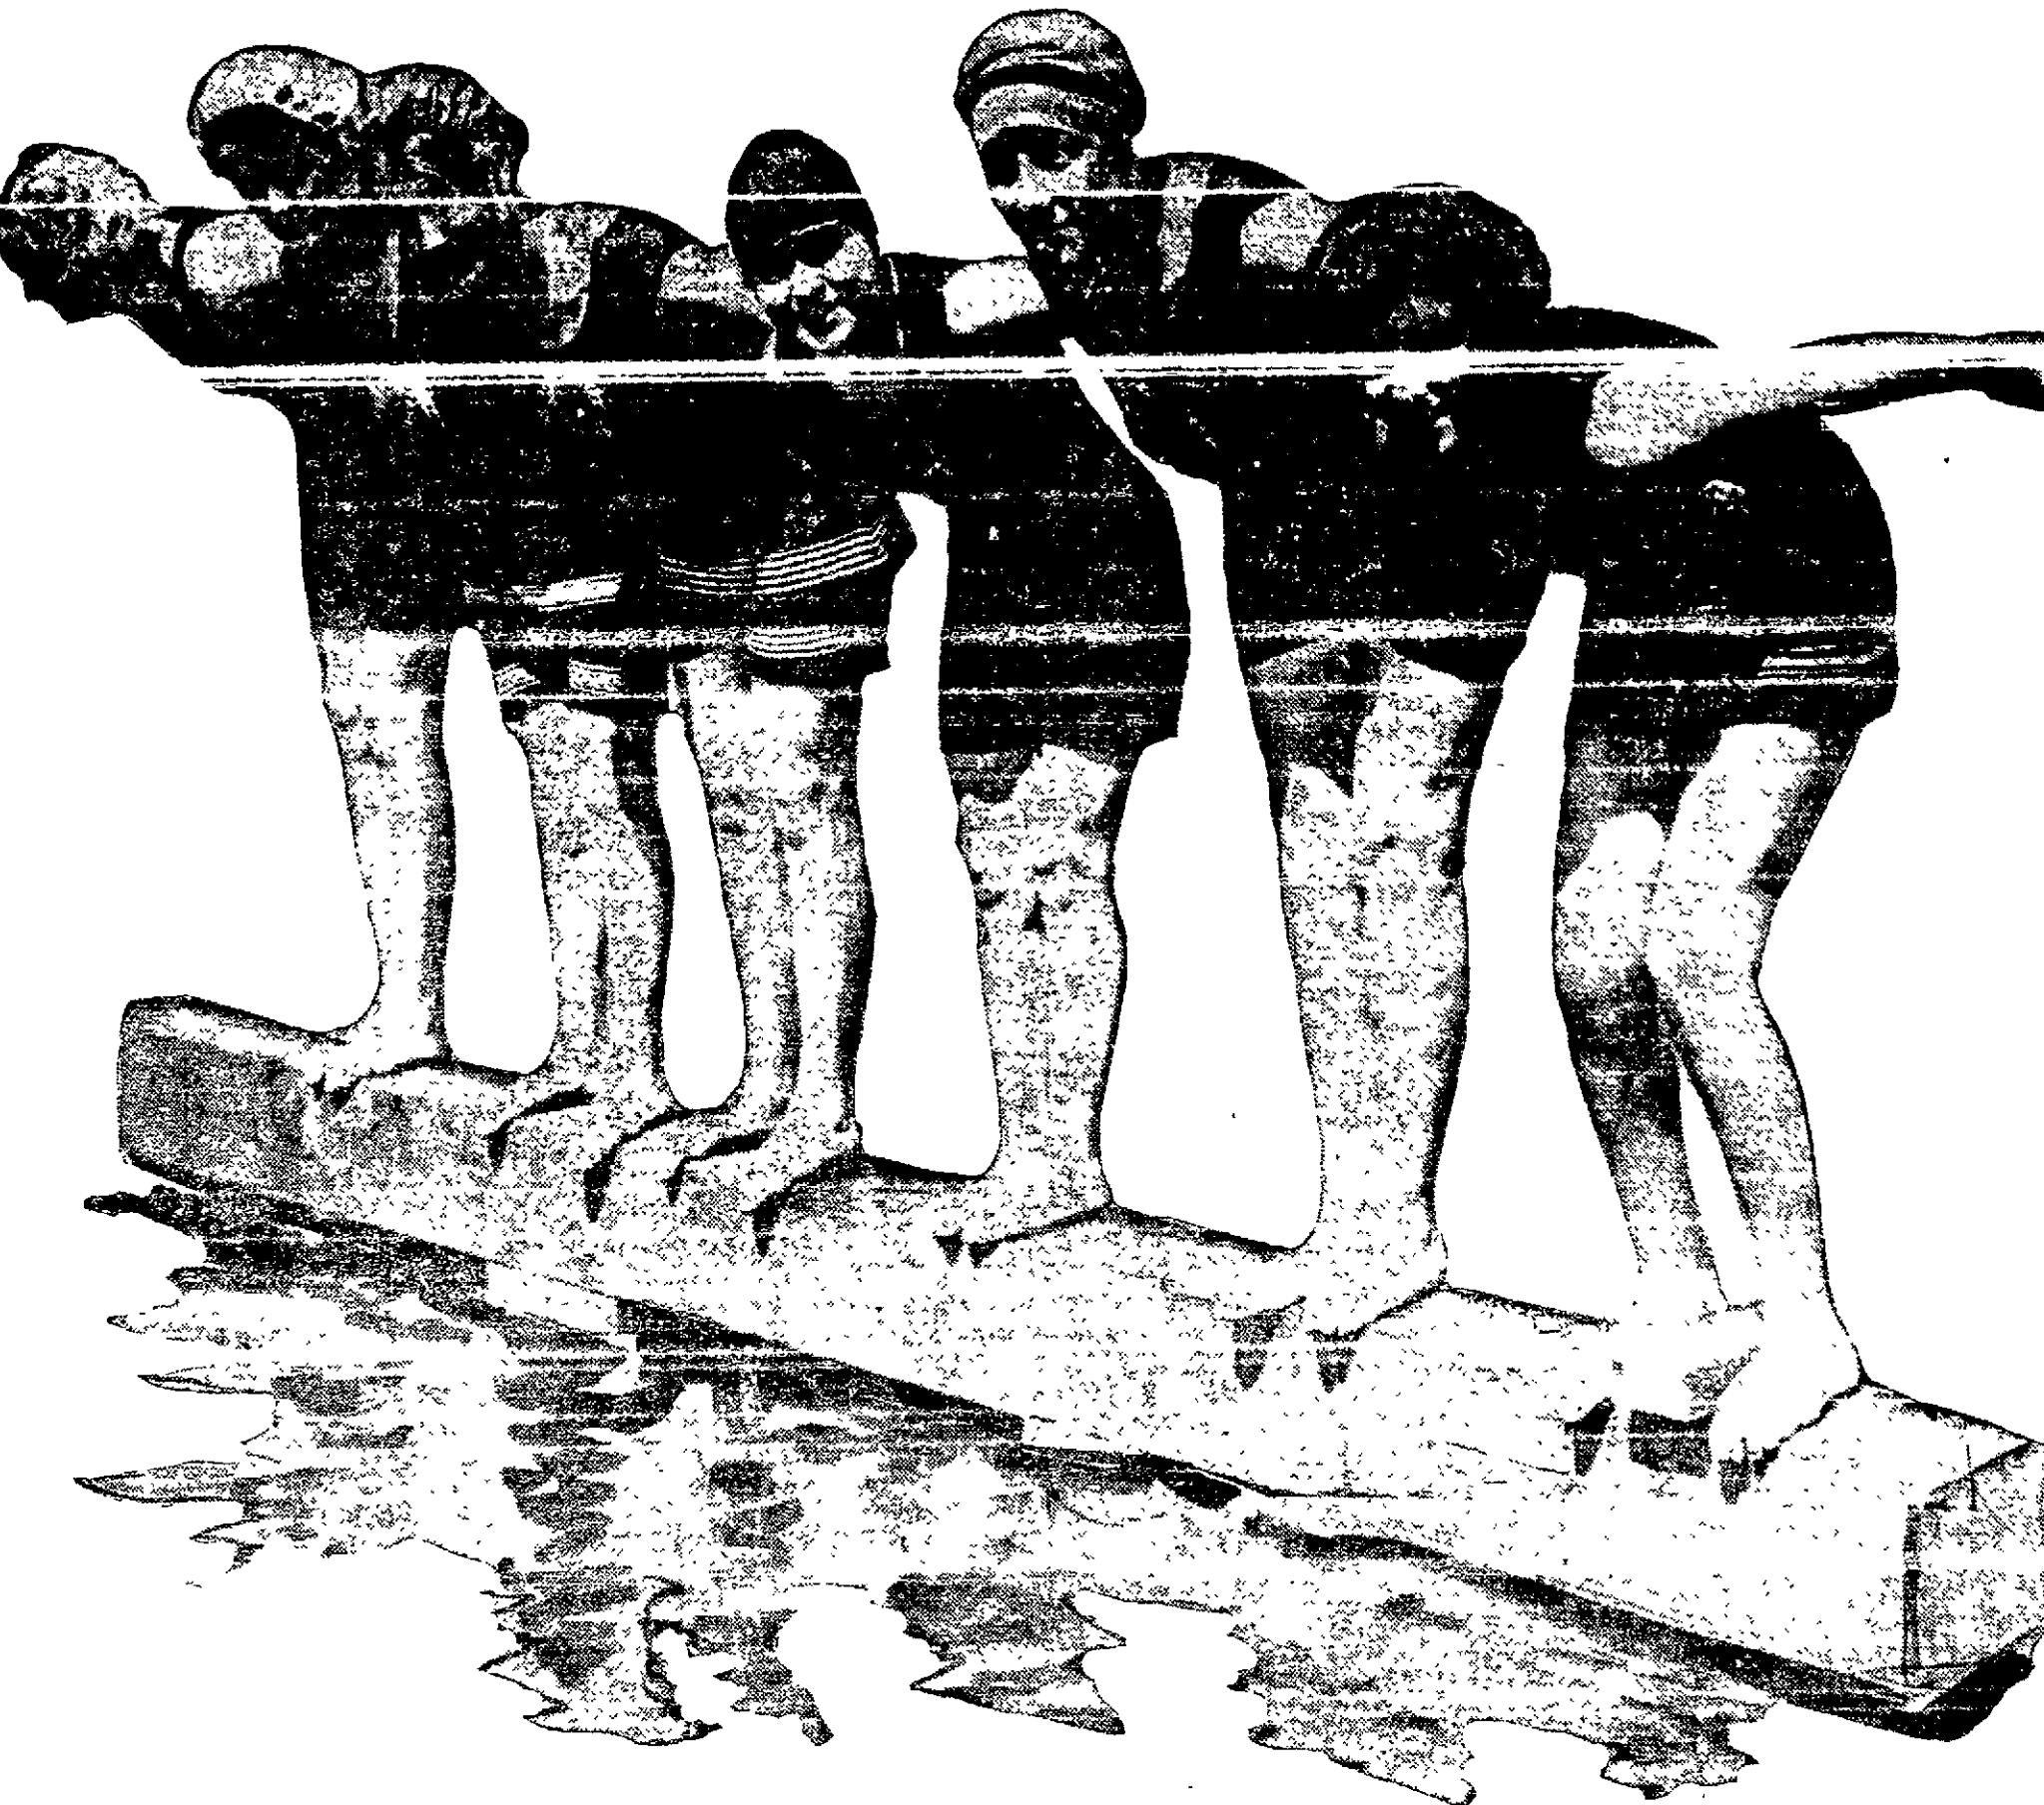

"There was a colony of about 150 Americans in Durango at that time," said Findley, "and they suffered like the rest, all their money, watches and jewelry being taken from them. The rebels did not even respect the United States consulate. They entered Connel Harris residence and forced him to possession of all his arms and ammunition, although they did not molest his personal belongings."

"Immediately following the raiding of Durango a number of Americans left for Mazatlan by way of a mountain trail and never again were heard of. The supposition is that they fell into the hands of the bandits and were murdered."

C. F. Sigalla, another American refugee arriving today, corroborates the story told by Findley.

HITS SLIT SKIRT; NOT FOR TEACHER

Some Reason for Objections to the Flimsy, Modern Gown.

When Secretary A. L. Hannaford of the Board of Education raised his voice against transparent gowns, slit skirts and peek-a-boo waists on the fair forms of Oakland school teachers he made several enemies among modestly attired givers of the young idea, and also enlisted strong support on the part of Miss Annie Florence Brown of the Board of Education.

"Mr. Hannaford was more than right," declared Miss Brown, "and I, for one, support him gladly. New fashions, of a sort, have no place among our teachers. I don't mean that a teacher shouldn't be attired becomingly, but these new fashions—well they won't do. No teacher in Oakland schools can dress in a way to excite comment. I think it's a shame the way some of our girls dress anyway, although I blame the parents more than them."

"We hire teachers not only to teach, but to serve as moral examples to our children, and, no matter how moral a woman may be, she doesn't show it in a slit skirt or a transparent shirtwaist."

"I don't want to pass specifically on any of the modern and extreme fashions, because I don't know much about them. Any dress that is suggestive, however, has no place in our schools. None has ever been seen here yet, and they will not be, if we can prevent it."

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 1.—Mrs. Robert Lindsay of the Casa Blanca Apartments today sought the aid of the police in looking for her 5-year-old son, who after being taken to a mother-in-law's home, has dropped from sight.

Mrs. Lindsay declared that the child was taken out by Miss Myrtle Prentiss, who lived with her, on August 27, and stated that neither have been seen since. ## TO RECOMMEND COMPROMISE INCOME TAX

Democratic Members of Congress Indicate Rejection and Fight in Caucus.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 1.—An amendment to the income tax bill on large fortunes only when the incomes run above $250,000 annually is the basis of a compromise Democratic members of the finance committee will recommend to the Democratic caucus tomorrow night. The attitude of the Democratic insurgents and Democrats today was such as to indicate that they would not accept the arrangement without a fight and the caucus may run two or three days.

The finance committee has decided to leave the rates of the income tax as at present up to the $250,000 mark. The new taxes now proposed in addition to the normal tax above the $3000 minimum are:

Four per cent additional from $25,000 and $500,000, 350 with incomes between $500,000 and $1,000,000, 50 per cent above $1,000,000. The Senate will adjourn at 5 p. m. tomorrow.

The Democratic caucus will then begin its efforts to agree on the remaining provisions of the bill. It is estimated there are 550 persons in the country with incomes between $250,000 and $500,000, 350 with incomes between $500,000 and $1,000,000, and more than 100 with incomes above $1,000,000.

The committee agreed that the original provision of the House bill taxing the entire income of mutual insurance companies be retained. Finance committees had recommended the exemption of that portion of the income returned to policyholders in the form of dividends.

PROPOSES TAX.
Senator Cummins introduced an amendment providing a 10 per cent tax on sales of stocks, bonds, cotton or agricultural products, through organized stock or produce exchanges, "where the seller is not the actual owner of the things sold."

His amendment was offered as a substitute to the Clark amendment. Senator Cummins declared "stock exchange sales" in New York last year were fully 95 per cent fictitious.

"Not 10 per cent of the railroad stocks or the United States change hands each year," he said, "but the so-called sales on the New York Stock Exchange last year amounted to four-fifths of the entire stock issues of all the railroads of the United States."

"This does not include the sales at Philadelphia, Boston, Chicago and other cities. This short sale evil is the greatest menace now threatening the financial strength of this country," said Senator Cummins. "Some day we must undertake the task of suppressing these fictitious sales."

Senator Cummins said he did not seek to abolish stock exchanges, but wanted to make them "useful" to the country, the scenes of actual trades.

Constable Thompson averred that it was the most delicate situation he ever tackled. He said that the girls were dressed in nature's garb, and that the boys were dressed behind a natural screen. When nature's garb had been supplied by the rain, the whole party was taken before Squire Cowan.

Billy Fitz Says, Says he:

Well the Angels and Ducks may weep upon each other's shoulders this morning. They both know how it feels to be shaved too closely. Billy Fitz says that the Angels seem to have gone beyond the stage of tears. Not that the Oaks take their defeat so stoically as do the Angels. Billy's men seem to be quite happy when they hold the score down. Actually, there is a bit of a lull in the Angel camp, when they are only beaten by one or two nicks. There is something pathetic about the plight of the one-time (and for a long time) league leaders. Pop Dillon makes himself as scarce as possible these days. Yesterday morning, neither he nor Field Captain Ivan Howard showed up, and Charley Moore was permitted to run the team. Everybody took it as a sort of a lark, including Charley himself.

That Middleweight Lober trade was what the Old Roman's heart. The Los Angeles fans will never forget it, and neither will the Angels. Everyone would have been in that trade in peace had it not been for the fact that Lober started the Portland team last season, and the Angels' advent at the City of Angels seemed to be the grease upon the skids.

Well, the Seals have shown us what three good pitchers can do for a team. With the assistance of Leifeld, Overall and Skettler Fanning, San Francisco has won from the city to the first division, only a few points away from second place. The three twirlers are boys entirely responsible for the fact that the Angels are in the first division. It is not denying that Overall and Leifeld have been better than the Seals might now be enjoying at place.

It will be mighty interesting to see how Overall, Leifeld and Fanning will succeed against Higginbotham, West and James of Portland, or against Williams, Klammer and Lively of Sacramento.

Tomorrow Oakland plays Los Angeles while waiting for the Ducks to arrive from the north. With the northerners playing almost invincible baseball, it looks rather gloomy for Oakland prospects. With a morning game yesterday at Venice, the Seals developed a whole new class of Oakland warriors in the person of Buck O'Brien, started the game, but the Venice lineup walked over him for five singles and four runs. Lohman finished.

Fanning has now pitched seven straight victories, equalling the season's record for the Coast league. Johnny Williams has won his last seven straight, so that both pitchers have a chance to lengthen the string.

Pop Dillon switched his batting order to the afternoon in the hope of breaking the hoodoo but to no avail. Wilson, the recruit from Seattle, played in rightfield. He got one hit. A nice drive to leftfield in the eighth.

Overall struck out nine men in yesterday's game. He pitched twice. Moore, Page, Wilson and Johnson were the others who fanned.

Butt was so very good yesterday afternoon that Mitzte wanted him from the box figuring that the game had already been lost. He gave the Seals a good game. The chances are that the chubby one will work today. By taking both the Oaks may really be in the series. The Oaks may really be in the series. The Oaks may really be in the series.

When Billy Seals doubled to centerfield in the 11th inning with Charley in first base and two down, he gave the first base and two down, he gave the first base and two down, he gave the first base and two down.

Art (Willie) Shaffer, who quit baseball for a time last spring, because of too many "perfunctory" notes, has written to a relative in Los Angeles, saying that he wants to get back into the game and then retire from baseball.

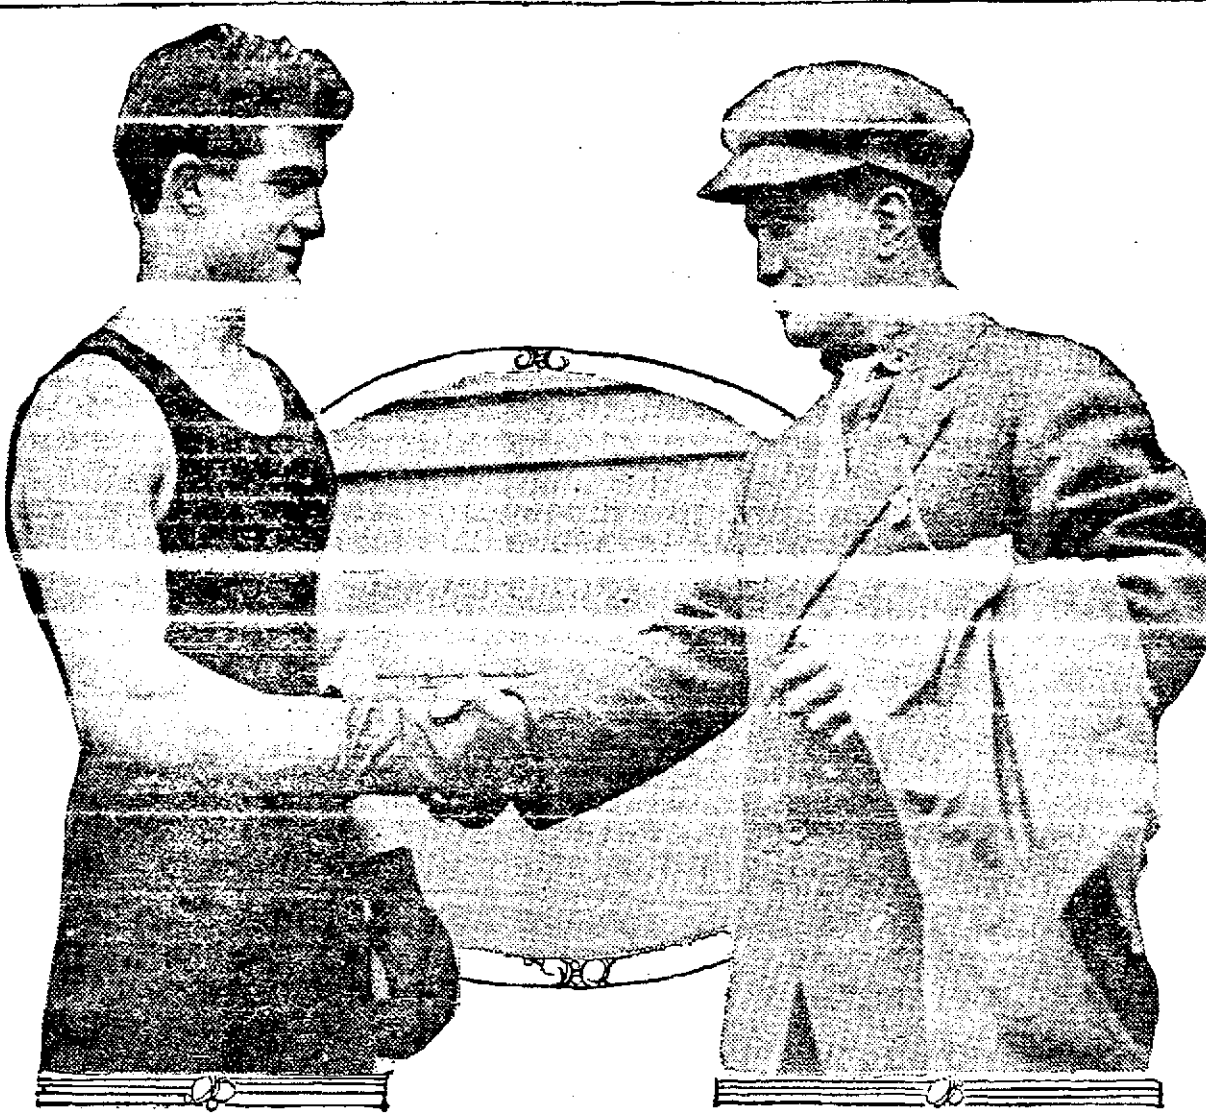

They have a wonderful bunch of players in Los Angeles. They can even induce Mitzte to consent to an interview. At least, we have no means of knowing whether Honus did or did not consent to be interviewed, but they've interviewed him down there, or say they have, and there is appended here what purports to be Mitzte's real explanation of why the club has been kept out of this year's race.

(By CARL MITZTE.) Baseball is a funny game. It has so many angles and so many complications to contend with that a manager really has to figure day and night to keep a team up in the race. I have been on ball clubs that were pennant winners and others that finished in the rut, so that I can speak from experience. Even when you are the manager, you have to keep thinking to stay there. You can never tell what hard luck will strike you and when it does strike it hits you very hard. Injury to my players is what is directly responsible for the low position my club is occupying in the race. It has necessitated many changes in our lineup. I have been unable to play any real inside ball. With a new man playing nearly every other day it is impossible to get a lineup that will stay.

I started the season with a lineup that was capable of giving a good account of itself. The team was stronger than last season when we were the pennant, and figured to be very much in the running. Our outfield, consisting of Schirm in leftfield, Zacher in centerfield and Jay in rightfield, completed favorably with any outfield in the league.

Nails on first base, Leard at second, Cook for shortstop and Helling at third was a strong combination as I figure.

'JUST BEFORE THE BATTLE, MOTHER!'

"Well, kid; I wish you luck," said Ad Wolgast with a grin, when he saw Azevedo just outside the little club where the two fighters have been doing their training stunts. "However," added the little Dutchman, "I'm betting I knock your block off before the tenth, so look out." "You lose," was Joe's quiet reply.

TRIBUNE RUNNERS EASE UP IN THEIR PREPARATIONS

Only a Week Remains Before 'Merritt Marathon' Is Staged

The competitors in THE TRIBUNE'S modified Merritt Marathon have now entered into the last week of preparation for the Admission day race, and are gradually tapering off in their training. Those who have adhered to the training rules published in these columns are in fine condition and with light work this week should find no physical trouble in going through the race.

Chief of Police Peterson has promised to keep the course clear of automobiles and other vehicles during the time the race is in progress, and volunteer line-men from the Oakland Y. M. C. A., St. Mary's College and other organizations will assist in this duty. Previous to THE TRIBUNE race, the Oakland and San Francisco Y. M. C. A. will engage in a dual relay around the same course.

The Piedmont Baths, the management of which has so generously promised the use of lockers, tanks and showers before and after the race, are without a doubt unexcelled around the bay. All of the contestants should gather at the baths about 12:30 the afternoon of the race in order to be in track suits on time to get at the start at 1 o'clock.

A meeting of the committee in charge, has been called by Chairman Herbert Hauser for Wednesday evening in the editorial rooms when the final arrangements will be completed.

No Chance to Trip Up the Leaders in Big Leagues

NEW YORK, Sept. 1.—Although the Giants dropped three games in a row last week and the Athletics were beaten twice in a double-header yesterday, there is no indication that the baseball world is ready to make any preliminary arrangements already under way for world's series games at the Polo grounds, New York and Shibe park, Philadelphia.

The Giants' losing streak bids fair to string itself out to four straight, as the Athletics apparently had Saturday's encounter well in hand when the unfortunate Clevelanders hardly have played better, but last night found them only a game and a half better off than they were a week ago. Seven and a half games ago, the Athletics were the league champions. As the season has only five weeks to go, the Athletics will have to be more rapid if the Giants are to be headed before October 5.

In the other major league the change was not so little more pronounced. The Clevelanders have been playing better, but last night found them only a game and a half better off than they were a week ago. Seven and a half games ago, the Athletics were the league champions. As the season has only five weeks to go, the Athletics will have to be more rapid if the Giants are to be headed before October 5.

The Giants' setback, such as it was, seems to have been largely due to the weakening of their usually formidable of 14 runs in six games is far below their standard. The pitching has been reasonably up to expectations, although Mathewson has seemed of late to be good for once in a well pitched game.

Turning to the American league, a curious thing to be noted about the Athletics is that the veteran twirlers, who were supposed to be going state from overwork, pitched three out of the team's four victories. The notable point about Cleveland's work was the recalcitrance of Falkenberg, who had been promised slated to go by the waiver route, but who has pitched two shutout games since the report got into circulation.

All Races, Creeds, and Colors Recognized by Latest Statute

NEW YORK, Sept. 1.—There has gone into effect today throughout New York State an anti-discrimination law which, if it is lived up to in the letter, will allow any citizen of the State of any race, creed or color to gain admittance to any place of "public accommodation, resort or amusement in the state."

The new law provides that any person who violates any of its requirements shall be punishable by a fine of not less than $100 and not more than $500, the same to be paid to the aggrieved person by way of damages. Also he will be guilty of a misdemeanor and must pay a fine of not less than $50 and not more than $500, or serve a prison term of not less than 30 days and not more than 90 days, or both.

The new statute also makes it unlawful for a keeper of a public place of accommodation to advertise or discriminate on the basis of race, creed or color, or either excluded or not wanted.

SPORTLETS

Entries close today for the 15th annual track and field meet of the Pacific Athletic association, which will be held on September 9 on the St. Mary's college track.

B. J. Tammela's Emma T. was winner of the club race held under the auspices of the Pacific Motor Boat club yesterday. Winning by a margin of eight seconds, Tammela's Emma T. was the fastest boat in the race, starting opposite the headquarters at Belvedere.

Seventy-five runners, representing teams from the San Jose and San Francisco Y. M. C. A., are competing today in a relay race from San Francisco to San Jose, an approximate distance of 50 miles. The first runners left San Francisco 9 o'clock with a message from Mayor Ralph to Mayor Jonathan.

OLD STUFF, OLD STUFF. When Cain scared Abel on the beach and hit him croaking on the scene, Abe's manager called in the boys "The Paper Scissors" and made this noise: "Poor Abe was fit—here have a rope—But some one drugged the simp with dope."

Years later when Kid David came and hit him croaking on the scene, and chomped his cork off—Some tough guy! The Phillies pulled this alibi: "Some gaudy fellow full of dope."

Nope! And still gives heart-licking hordes a pain. And still gives heart-licking hordes a pain. And still gives heart-licking hordes a pain.

One day when Caesar kicked him hence He chanced on Brutus—friend and "fence"—Who acted scarce till drinks were poured And then he croaked on the scene. The "Extras" called Kid Jule a "Hope" But said some guy had slipped him dope.

And yet when some run fighter-guy He mauled them springing this alibi! That's held the boards with Brute and Cain.

And still gives heart-licking hordes a pain. And still gives heart-licking hordes a pain. And still gives heart-licking hordes a pain.

"It is the ninth inning. One run is needed to win. Two down. With one man on third and the runner on third base, the batter completes the circuit. Problem: How far does the umpire run?"

GOLFERS IN QUEST OF GRANDE TO MEET CLABBY AT SACRAMENTO TONIGHT

One Hundred and Twenty-Four Are Starters in Competition at New York.

Result Will Show Whether Easterner Deserves Chance at Those Higher Up.

By THE TIMEKEEPER.

Considerable interest attaches to the meeting scheduled for this evening at Sacramento between Jimmy Clabby and Sailor Grande. Grande is a tough old route. Grande is a tough old route. Grande is a tough old route.

Clabby of course has got to negotiate another hurdle before the West Oakland club on the seventeenth of this month when he is slated to take on Frank Logan of Manila. The West Oakland Club has secured the card, which promises the most legitimate middleweight battle Oakland has seen in years.

Coffroth will give Clabby a chance if the latter gets by with Grande and Logan. The selection of Jim Griffin to referee today's lightweight battle between Ad Wolgast and Joe Azevedo in this city illustrates how time may develop vagaries in the average pugilistic mind. Not so very long ago Wolgast regarded Griffin with the same affection that a burglar shows a policeman. If they had ever suggested then to the Dutchman that before another year elapsed he would be insisting that Griffin referee contests in which he participated, Wolgast would have scorned to snarl. Griffin was the man who deprived Wolgast of his title by awarding the fight the verdict on a foul.

Yet today, Griffin referees the Wolgast-Azevedo match only because Wolgast refused to stand for Frank Schuster or anyone else unless it be Griffin or Eddie Grier. As Grier would not act, the honorable Jim became the third man in the ring.

Betting up to noon today on this afternoon contest was 2 to 1 on Wolgast with every day that Azevedo could not stay the limit.

It is impossible to tell what the Dutchman's condition is or how perfectly healed his hand is. Azevedo really banks his money on the little German's lack of condition. Those who bet on Wolgast figure him to be in good enough shape to whip a sturdy, hardy youngster, and they may be wrong.

The main event will not start much before 8:30. Good sized crowds visited the camps of the great middleweight who are to box twenty rounds before Jim Coffroth's club on Tuesday, September 8. McAllister did his first day's work yesterday in his Oakland quarters. He was on the road for five miles in the morning and later in the day boxed four rounds, two with Lou Simms and Carl Becker. Manager Al McAllister leaves this morning for Sacramento to watch the main event between Jimmy Clabby and Sailor Grande.

Petrosky, who is at Billy Shannon's place in San Rafael, sparred eight rounds against Ray Kenny and two with Billy Griffiths made up his program. Petrosky will do early road work today, as he intends making the trip to Sacramento to attend the middleweight bout.

CLAREMONT OAKS WIN TWO. The Claremont Oaks claim a forfeit from the Beverly Stars and also a decisive game from the Bushrod Stars. The feature of the game was the hitting of Barry of the Claremont Oaks who hit four home runs in five trips to the plate. Although the Oaks made four errors this is no discredit to the players for all were on their toes and after every play.

Score: Bushrod Stars 1, Claremont Oaks 2. Three hits, 1 run off Nelson in 8 innings.

KILROY TWIRLS NO-HIT GAME. WOODLAND, Sept. 1.—Kilroy, formerly with the Coast League team, twirled a no-hit, no-run game yesterday for Colusa, his team defeating the Oaks by a score of 5 to 0. The score: Colusa 5, Oaks 0.

Woodland 5, Oaks 0. Batteries—Kilroy and Buckley, C. Gill and Hoag.

Baseball Problems and Their Answers

To the Sporting Editor: If a shortstop gets an assist when the first baseman drops a ball thrown to him, thereby allowing a runner to reach the base in safety, why, in the name of reasoning, would not the first baseman get put out on a throw that pulled him off the base who threw the ball?

It may be that the runner is not a runner if it had been accurate? JESSE S. You may search us. We merely give the major league interpretations of baseball rules without claiming responsibility for them.

A third baseman hits a bunt and sends it for a home run and is put out before reaching the plate. He is credited with a three-base hit! A batter coming to first on a bunt and instead of beating it out, allow safe, is he out? Is there a rule not allowing a runner to slide to first? SILLIBER.

Certainly. 2. There is no rule against sliding to first base. American Association umpires are and to positive players who slide by calling them out on a slide. If a runner is out, it is done in no other league. If the first baseman failed to catch the ball, even an American Association umpire would count on a slide if he called a runner out for a slide.

EDITOR TRIBUNE:

I desire to emphasize the danger-point in the new liquor ordinance, the so-called local option clause in section 13. I feel it to be so dangerous that we had better surrender the whole residential district plan than to accept it with this embodied in it. There are many places in the residence sections of the city where within the 500 feet there are so few residents that a saloon-keeper, his partner and his barkeeper, by judiciously residing within that circle could locate a saloon in the midst of a population overwhelmingly adverse to his doing so.

Local option applied to very small units has always proved itself no remedy but rather a source of endless irritation. Then too local option by petition is vicious. Under the county government the annexed district had great experience in the "trap" method of going over by one side and then by the other. People were pressed to take their names on the petition or off the protest, till the whole community was embittered.

The only proper way is for the ordinance to determine a residence district, within which no saloons shall be exceptions.

One other matter, the suggestion of compensation for saloon keepers has been made, and is said to be reasonably fair. I do not want to be unreasonable, but we need to weigh this matter with care. When the city moved the dairies outside the city limits and when the hog ranches were moved they were not compensated, but now when we try to put out of existence a business that is always and everywhere a noxious weed, we are expected to compensate them.

What do we owe them? They have ruled us with an iron rod, enforcing their demands through the power of a na-

If compensation is to be considered, by all means let it go to the families of drunkards, so many of whom can be found in our fair city as a result of our wretched policy of licensing vice.

Good Roads for Telephone Talk

THE good roads movement has not been confined to the highways. The Bell Telephone System has covered the country with "good roads" for telephone talk, reaching every nook and corner.

There are more than 12,000,000 miles of these "good roads" in the Bell System. Some of them are strung in single pairs or in aerial cables from pole to pole; others are hidden away in underground conduits; they cross lofty mountain chains; pass under mighty rivers and reach the heart of each industrial and commercial center of the nation and to the most remote habitations.

These "good telephone roads" of the Bell System are all operated by one system, under one policy, forming one continuous system of intercommunication. They connect more than 7,500,000 telephones for universal service.

Every Bell Telephone is a Long Distance Station

MISS DOROTHY EDINGER, who may play in "The Vikings of Helgeland."

UNIVERSITY OF CALIFORNIA, Sept. 1.—

plying for the cast of "The Vikings of Helgeland," the Ibsen play which the English club of the university is to present this fall in the Hearst Greek theater.
Before the distribution of parts is made a second set of tests must be passed by the prospective players.The final try-outs are to be held to-

NEARLY DROWNEDTraining Prize Fighter Seized With Fit While Bathing
in Surf.ALAMEDA, Sept. 1.—Seized with an epileptic fit while bathing in the surf at Sunny Cove yesterday afternoon, Vello Lazari sank beneath the surface of the water several times before his plight was noticed by a party of bathers, who went to his rescue. The half-drowned man was brought to the surface and hauled to the shore, where first aid was given. The water was expelled from his lungs and stomach and he was brought to the local emergency hospital.City Physician Arthur Hieronymus treated Lazari, and later sent him to the county hospital. The man said that he was training to be a prize fighter and was taking a swim for exercise when he was overcome with the fit, which he is subject. He was advised by Dr. Hieronymus to abandon his intention of becoming a fighter.Lazari is about 21 years of age. He resides at 15 Lyon terrace, San Francisco.INJURED MAN IN SERIOUS CONDITIONALAMEDA, Sept. 1.—Reports from the Alameda sanatorium today with regard to the condition of William Bullman and Gilbert Riley, two delinquents who were injured when a car of the street car line collided with their wagon Saturday night,
are that while Riley is in a satisfactory condition, it is impossible to tell as yet
what the outcome of Bullman's injuries will be.The men are employed by former Mayor W. H. Hoy in the Palace market. They were engaged in delivering meat, driving on Chestnut street, when the Encinal avenue car struck their wagon, overturning it and throwing the men to the ground.Bullman has a broken left arm, and Bullman a possible fracture of the skull and internal injuries.

WAS GOOD RUNNER.

ALAMEDA, Sept. 1.—Mrs. Gertrude
M. Dandy of 2941 Lincoln avenue complained to the police that a possible attempt to rob her house was made last night. Mrs. Dandy was returning from a visit when a man started at her approach ran out of the yard.She furnished a description of the intruder, but he must have been running police arrived. Nothing was found.

do not cause pain. Mrs. M. C. Dunlap of threatening to brain him with a rolling pin if he returned. The man had offered the negro cook 75 cents a hundred pounds

if she would go to the fields, she said in police court.Planters claim that pickers are very

Specimen, But Endangers
His Life.ALAMEDA, Sept. 1.—Ab Donnell, a well known local resident, is suffering from an attack of blood poisoning in his left arm caused by the bite of a tarantula while on a vacation trip to Truckee a week ago. The spider was one of the lar-It was killed by Donnell and is being kept as a trophy, although the Alamedan almost lost his own life in an effort to capture the specimen.Donnell was on picnic in the hills when he saw the big hairy "animal" and thought to capture it. As he was about to pin it beneath a stick it sprang onto his hand and bit him, then falling to the ground. Donnell struck the spider with a stick killing it. He then cut about the wound with his knife, causing a strong flow of blood, and hurried to Truckee for medical attention.The arm and hand swelled to twice their size, turning black and giving promise for a time that an operation would be required or that life itself might be forfeited. Donnell is now out of danger.LABOR DAY IN ENCINAL CITYIs Observed as General Holiday, But Without Programmed Events.ALAMEDA, Sept. 1.—Labor Day was quietly observed in Alameda. There was no demonstration in the way of a parade or other organized observance of the day. Many of the residents left the city for Oakland or San Francisco, leaving their homes for a day of rest and recreation.At all the beaches the crowds thronged the surf and swam in the sea. The Encinal Yacht club and the Encinal beach club were the main attractions and bathing parties, despite the fact that most of the yachts of the former organization are away on a cruise to Redwood City with the Sausalito club as their guest.At the Alameda Boating club there were many of the former club members and the junior and senior large crews were at practice this afternoon.Tennis courts in the various playgrounds and at the private clubs were in use all day. The Alameda Moose and the Berkeley Moose are playing baseball
on the Lincoln park diamond this afternoon, and the other diamonds have been occupied by youngsters and youths
in amateur games.

ALAMEDA PERSONALS

ALAMEDA, Sept. 1.—C. G. Fischer,
Miss Maude Fischer, Louis Fischer, Miss
Maude Fischer, with Mrs. Robert Paeffle left last night for McCloud river where they will spend the next few days.
The closure seekers in the city to devoted much of the time to salmon fishing and other outdoor sports.Frank Edwards, Frank has returned from a month's outing in Ukiah and the forests of Lake Sonoma and Mendocino counties. The Alameda divine staked himself and whipped the stream for trout.
He has returned to his duties as pastor of the church.Miss Edna Fischer has set for the month of her marriage to George William Hall. The wedding will take place in the early part of the month.
But the exact date has not yet been announced.William Edwards Jr., who has been here on a visit to his sister, Mrs. Franklin Brown of Bay street, left yesterday for his home in Los Angeles.Miss Alice Manley, who has had as a house guest for the past few weeks, Miss Fern Brundage of Campbell, left with Miss Brundage yesterday to return to the city. Miss Manley expects to be away about ten days.Casa Bern cottage, near Camp Necker is the summer home of Mr. and Mrs. M.
E. Shepard. The Shepards are taking their vacation late this year, having left Saturday for the cottage. They will be away a fortnight.HAS FONDNESS FOR OPEN-AIR SLEEPINGALAMEDA, Sept. 1.—The management of the Alameda sanatorium had no particular objection to a tired man taking a nap on the lawn in front of the hammocks in the back yard of the institution. The location is pleasant, and overlooks the bay, and the sea breezes are guaranteed to bring rest and refreshment to tired nerves. It is for this purpose that the hammocks are there, and they are intended for the patients at so much per hour.But when a free "patient" engages a hammock as his regular headquarters, and neglects to register his name upon the hospital roster, and when he keeps this up night after night, it's time to register a complaint. Hence the information on the police blotter today:"Short, dark man sleeps on hammock in open-air sleeping porch, overlooking the bay. He has been sleeping there several nights in a row."Result, Detective George Brown and Police Officer Al Huff and Fred Hague will watch under the trees this evening when the regular lodger appears, unless he is warned and fails to appear.

Oakland man, was taken into custody
this morning and charged with violating the license ordinance in not having his express wagon properly decked with an official medallion. He is out on bail to appear tomorrow.Y. R. Schwartz was arrested last night for violating the license ordinance in not having his express wagon properly decked
with an official medallion. He is out on bail to appear tomorrow.

BOYS DISTURB GUESTS.

ALAMEDA, Sept. 1.—The management of a local hotel has complained to the police that newsmen who congregated near the hotel indulged in such boisterous
language as to disturb the guests.PRACTICE FOR 'NINTH' REGATTA

STAGING ELECTRAMaps Out Entrances and Exits
of Famed Tragedy at Hearst Greek Theater.BERKELEY, Sept. 1.—Margaret Anglin
this morning spoke her first lines in "Electra," Sophocles' famed tragedy, in the Hearst Greek Theater this morning.
The actress, with her husband, and several members of her company visited the place and later after Miss Anglin hadgeneral entrance and exit plans, and looked into its possibilities, she was shown about the city.Miss Anglin's production of the famed Greek tragedy will be one of the most elaborate in the history of the theater.
She brings with her from New York a company of 75 persons. The play will be produced September 8. An orchestra of 50 will render an overture and incidental music, all specially composed for this production.The play has come from New York to conduct the orchestra and the choruses. The play was produced by Livingston Platt, and he is in charge of the color scheme and the lighting. The translation of this Greek tragedy is by Planchon. The play has seldom before been given in America.In order that the students may have special opportunity to understand the beauty and grandeur of this Greek masterpiece, Charles Mills Gayley, head of the Department of English in the University, is to deliver a public lecture upon the play in the Greek Theater at 4 o'clock Friday afternoon, September 5—the day before the production.The next of these student plays is to be in October, a presentation of the English Club of "The Vikings at Helgeland," a historical play by Henrik Ibsen."CLEAN BEACHES" SLOGAN
OF THE NEW COUNCILALAMEDA, Sept. 1.—Residents along the south side of the city from Park street east are complaining Superintendent of Streets V. M. Fiedler for his failure to furnish them with a bathing place. It was to be for the broken glass and other debris that had for years been the cause for bathing. Fiedler had three times gone onto the beach with his crew, the result being that much of the objectionable rubbish has been removed.Instructions to the superintendent to do the work were given by the city council after much complaint had been received. In former times an old garbage dump had been on adjacent land and bottles and other impracticable rubbish gradually worked itself into the sand.Aside from this objectionable feature the beach has been one of the most popular for bathing. It is the intention of the new city council to gradually clean up all the beaches and for this purpose the streets of sand have been turned over to the jurisdiction of the street department.

SEEK RECRUITS IN AVIATION CORPS

U. S. Army Force to Be Strengthened by Volunteer Army Officers.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 1.—Scarcity of army officers volunteering for the aviation corps has called out an appeal from Brigadier General George F. Scriven, chief signal officer. The announcement yesterday that France was about to recruit its aerial squadrons on an unusually extensive scale gave an added impetus to the decision to strengthen the United States army force in this direction. At present there are ten vacancies in the aviation corps.

General Scriven says frankly in his appeal that while married men are not barred from this branch of the service, bachelors not over 30 years of age are preferred. As an added inducement why youthful bachelor officers should seek entrance to the air service, the head of the signal corps declares:

"The military aviator will receive a handsome certificate signed by the chief of staff and the chief signal officer and under existing regulations wears a badge indicating that he is a military aviator."

GIRL WOUNDED IN STRIKE SHOOTING

Pickers Clash With Deputy Sheriffs Guarding Copper Mine.

CALEMET, Mich., Sept. 1.—The copper strike situation in the Keweenaw Peninsula of Northern Michigan was given a more serious aspect this morning as the result of the shooting and wounding of the daughter of one of the strikers at the North Keweenaw mine, two miles north of Calumet. When a picket of strikers and women clashed with deputy sheriffs guarding the mine.

The deputies claim that they were driven from the mining property by the strikers and when they returned the strikers fired on them. The federation of miners leaders deny this, claiming the deputies fired without provocation into the crowd of strikers and women, wounding several and fatally hurting Margaret Fazakas, a Hungarian, aged 15 years.

General John J. Conner, chief of the military forces, has ordered an investigation.

VICIOUS HORSE KILLS RIDER IN STADIUM

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 1.—Regarding all warnings, Frederick Glass, 386 Oak street, who was until recently president of the C. B. Rode Driving Company, tried to mount his horse, Bessie, in the stadium at Golden Gate Park yesterday afternoon and was thrown and killed. According to eyewitnesses' stories, Glass had not yet got thoroughly astride his steed when the latter reared, throwing her master to the ground with such force that he sustained a basic fracture of the skull and other injuries, from which he died later in the afternoon at the Central Emergency hospital.

John Hayes, an employee of the Dexter Prince Stables, 407 Baker street, where Glass had his home, mounted him after the fatal accident and began to ride her home. He had got as far as the main stadium, when the horse reared again and threw him off also. She was finally caught and taken home by Mounted Policeman Charles Guld.

At the stables Bessie bears an undesirable name for vicious habits and Mr. Glass, who was over 60 years of age, had been beseeched not to attempt to master her, but was determined to do so.

Glass, who is reputed to be wealthy, was unmarried, but had a brother, a sea captain, living at Santa Cruz. This brother has been summoned to San Francisco. Deceased was leaving a bungalow built at Ross. This dwelling was nearly finished and ready for occupancy at the time of the fatal mishap.

DRUGGISTS MEET AT SANTA CRUZ CONCLAVE

SANTA CRUZ, Sept. 1.—The California Drug Clerks' Association met in annual convention at Casino hall yesterday afternoon, where Mayor T. W. Drulman was on hand to extend the welcome of the city to the delegates who came from all over the state. President J. S. O'Callaghan of San Francisco presided and after responding to the welcome gave his annual report, which showed a gain of 25 per cent in membership during the past year.

He also reported as business manager for the Drug Clerk's Journal, published by the California Association, the only official organ of its kind published in the United States. Oakland was chosen as the meeting place in 1914, and an informal resolution favored San Francisco as the meeting place in 1915.

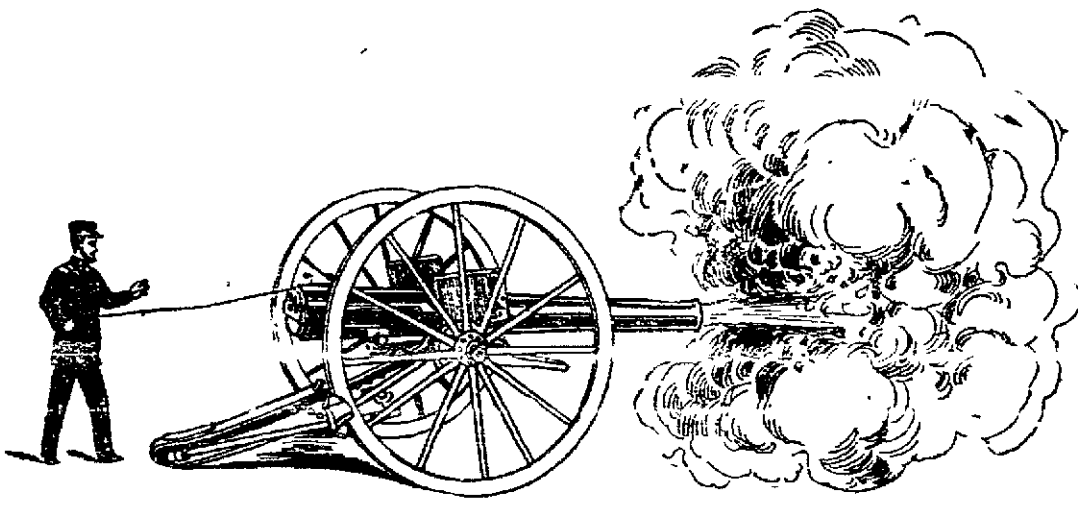

June 23 to 25 was set as the date for next year's convention as a later date seems unwise, more than being able to attend in June. The delegates are having a fine outing here. Their session convenes at 9:30 o'clock tomorrow morning, when the final business will be transacted, and in the afternoon there will be an outing to the big trees.

MYSTERY SURROUNDS DEATH OF OLD SPINSTER

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 1.—Mystery surrounds the death of Miss Jane Jamison, 60 years old, who with her brother, George Jamison, a wealthy retired commission merchant, was found by servants lying unconscious in the library of their home in the fashionable suburb of Radnor yesterday. They were removed to a hospital where Miss Jamison died shortly afterwards. The brother, who is 62, was still unconscious late last night.

The physicians at the hospital said they were unable to give the cause of Miss Jamison's death, but members of the family said that they believe she was stricken with apoplexy and that her brother also suffered a stroke when he found her unconscious.

The advisory committee to Mr. F. M. Smith in charge of Syndicate affairs, directs immediate sale of magnificent residential property in the vicinity of Lake Merritt.

The Realty Syndicate in making the announcement it does today is writing a new page in the history of Oakland real estate. It is marking a brand new epoch in the development and sale of the very highest class residential property in one of the very best residence districts on the east shore of the bay.

Ardsley Heights Has Been Ordered Sold

The Advisory Committee to Mr. F. M. Smith, in whose hands the affairs of The Realty Syndicate have been placed, have voted the immediate marketing of this holding, and have established prices and terms that demand the earnest consideration of every prospective purchaser of Oakland real estate.

We know there is nothing in all Oakland so admirably situated, so convenient to transportation and so certain of future increased value as ARDSLEY HEIGHTS at the prices which were placed upon it last week.

We know further, that there are two buyers for every lot in the tract and that within ten days there will probably not be enough left to meet the demand of late-comers. If the buyers who have long sought such a property as ARDSLEY HEIGHTS could all go out with us tomorrow morning there would not be a lot left by sundown.

So far as is in its power, The Realty Syndicate will give everyone equal opportunity for selection by deferring the formal opening of the property until next Sunday. During the week it will be prepared to make reservations for those who cannot go on any other day, and that the greatest number may be placed in possession of the story of ARDSLEY HEIGHTS in the shortest possible time and in the most effective manner, six advertisements (of which this is the first) will be published.
